

11. ALEXANDROS KAPELIS

Although Alexandros is a Greek-Peruvian classical pianist who performs with orchestras from London to Argentina, he's still had to tangle with pop culture. "I modeled for Hermès and Louis Vuitton, but it was really by accident," says the charming twenty-two-year-old with perfect pitch.

But things weren't always so flush. "When I first arrived in New York I didn't have any money, so I took a job as an organist at a Baptist church in Bed-Stuy, Brooklyn." A typical night out in NYC for Alexandros now includes going to parties at the Bulgari's or at Prince Pavlos of Greece's home. (more Beauties page 96)
